
Downloading Your Facebook Live Videos to Repurpose

For some reason Facebook has made downloading your Live videos very difficult, if not impossible. Being able to repurpose these videos is very important -- whether you use them in nurture emails, or upload them to your YouTube channel, etc.

So we've broken it down for you in these easy steps:

- 1) Locate the Facebook live video you wish to download. It might be on your profile or might appear on your newsfeed.
- 2) Right click on the video and select Show Video URL. Copy the URL. (Ctrl + V).
- 3) Navigate to the following website : Downvids.
- 4) Paste the URL of the video in the space below and click "DOWNLOAD!".

The screenshot shows a web interface for downloading videos. At the top, it says "Enter the URL of video, you want to download from". Below this is a text input field with a "DOWNLOAD !" button to its right. An example URL is provided: "example: https://www.facebook.com/page/videos/142661". Underneath, there is a "Select video format" dropdown menu currently set to "HD 720P". Below that is a "Convert to Mp3 ?" section with a radio button next to "MP3 (audio file)".

Your browser (we used Chrome here) will automatically start downloading the file for you. To check your downloads press Ctrl + J, or check your Downloads folder.

Your Facebook Live video is now ready to be repurposed!
